

JAILER L. L. JONES HAS BEEN INDICTED

Charged With Neglecting His Duty as Jailer of County.

Allowing Willis Mount to Run at Large Said to Have Caused It.

MOUNT OBTAIN FULL CHARGE

An indictment was returned by the grand jury yesterday afternoon when a batch of eighteen was turned into court, against Jailer Fayette Jones, charging wilful neglect of his duties as jailer of McCracken county. The indictment is understood to result from his having practically given Willis Mount his freedom for several months past. Mount has never evinced the slightest desire to escape, and although at the last trial of his case for killing Willis Nutley he was given twenty-one years, later being granted a new trial on appeal, he has gone about the jail and courthouse yard for months without ever violating the confidence placed in him. In fact, he has practically been turned out at the county jail since the deputy jailer was dispensed with by Jailer Jones several months ago. Mount has not only been carrying the keys of the jail, but has also frequently been in sole charge during the absence of Jailer Jones. During the summer when the court house was being cleaned and put in shape, Mount supervised the work and had charge of the men who were washing the walls. No one would have suspected that he was under indictment for wilful murder and not permitted to give bond.

It has been remarked by many for several weeks that Mount was probably the only prisoner in the United States, indicted for murder and awaiting trial for his life, who was turned out at the jail in which he was supposed to be confined, and who frequently had sole charge of it and all the prisoners therein. The matter before the grand jury. Being in full view of the jail, where they could see Mount in charge while Jailer Jones was over at circuit court with prisoners, it is probable the jurors simply took up the matter themselves without its being brought to their attention.

A grand jury this afternoon stated that some of the evidence before the jury was that Mount, while in charge of the jail, sent two petty larceny prisoners out in the jail yard to clean a buggy or carry a horse when a thunder storm came up. While the storm was raging the prisoners scaled the walls and escaped, being still at large. Jailer Jones it is said, was not at the jail at the time, but had left Mount in charge. The juror further stated that it was the intention of the grand jury to have Mount himself before the jury but that on account of rushing business, he was not summoned, sufficient evidence having been secured on which to base an indictment.

At last accounts Jailer Jones had not been taken before Judge Reed on a bench warrant and his case set, and Mount was still enjoying his liberty at the jail.

"Black Hand" Outrage Committed at Early Hour Upon New York Tenement

New York, Sept. 22.—With a roar that was heard for blocks, and one which threw the occupants of an entire neighborhood of densely crowded tenements into a panic, a dynamite bomb was exploded on the steps of a tenement house in First avenue. The neighborhood was shaken as by an earthquake and scores of sleepers were thrown from their beds. That nobody was seriously injured appears remarkable.

There are two stores on the ground floor of the house. One is a meat shop kept by Henry Blumberg, and the other is a baggy shop run by Henry S. Scarito. Living on the other floors were sixteen families. Last Tuesday Scarito went to police headquarters with a letter sent to him signed "Black Hand." He said it was the fourth he had received.

L. C. FOREMAN

Killed While Coupling Cars in Memphis Yards.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 22.—While coupling cars for the Illinois Central railroad in North Memphis yesterday afternoon, H. O. Jacob, foreman of the crew switch engine No. 89, was mangled between the cars, and received injuries which caused his death.

The deceased leaves a young wife and child. He was thirty years old. The injured man realized that he was going to die and bore his suffering with great fortitude. His only concern seemed to be for his wife, whom he said was in delicate health. He begged that the knowledge of the accident be kept from her as long as possible, so that she might be spared every moment of suffering.

TEN STATES

EXPECTED TO DROP OUT OF RURAL CARRIERS' ASSOCIATION.

President Cunningham Won a Victory in His Fight For Re-election.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—At yesterday's session of the Rural Letter Carrier's Association a motion to have President Cunningham retain his office for one year longer was carried by a large majority. As a result it is possible that about ten states that are unfriendly to the president will drop out of the association. It is reported that a committee already has been appointed by those who are opposed to Cunningham to draw up a constitution for the proposed new body.

The anti-Cunningham factions speak guardedly of this matter. At present, however, as the delegates that are backing Cunningham say that they do not expect such action to be taken.

The first matter on the program was the annual address of the president. Following this a motion was made by delegate C. M. Adams, of Davenport, Ia., that the term of president be extended for one year from the present convention, in accordance with a by-law of the constitution of the association.

This by-law provides that when an executive officer of the national body is forced to quit the service of the federal government because of a conflict between those duties and his duties to the association or because he has not time to fulfill both duties, he shall be permitted to serve one year from the expiration of the term after he lost his position.

Mr. Cunningham had lost his position with the government for being absent from his rural route without leave or without proper authority while he was attending to his duties as president of the association. He was entitled to another year in the office of president, but he had waived this right, saying that he wished to be president only if it were the will of the majority of the delegates. The president vacated the chair and Paul S. Meadgen was put in his place. Then debate fast and furious was carried on but finally the motion went to a vote and was carried by a vote of 57 for the motion and 35 against it.

In his annual address President Cunningham spoke of the relationship between the association and the postoffice department, saying that the association now has approval of the department and that it should do everything in its power to follow the wishes of the department officials as they have the welfare of the carriers at heart.

composed of five members of Central Body was appointed to investigate the advisability of giving the carnival, and will report as soon as possible.

Mr. George Walters, of the typographical union, is one of the members. The committee will meet Sunday morning to elect a chairman and secretary and begin work.

QUAINT CHARACTERS IN PADUCAH TODAY

Rev. Orne Finishes His Inspections of Institutions Here.

Finds Everything in Good Shape—Industrial Schools For Children.

AGED WOMAN AND HER DOG.

Rev. A. S. Orne, who started out from Dover, N. H., ten years ago in company with his wife to make a tour of the United States, and who had but seven cents in actual money at the time, this morning finished his inspection of the county jail and Home of the Friendless, and this ended his inspections of every jail and city prison in the United States, he says.

Rev. Orne will this afternoon hold a conference with Mayor Vesper and attempt to have an ordinance passed appointing or creating the office of Probation Officer whose duty it will be to arrest runaway children and children who loiter about the streets with no occupation, take them to the Home of the Friendless, or if charged with any crime, take them to the city or county jails where they are likely to come in contact with experienced criminals.

"This is my great work," Rev. Orne declared, "and I think from my study of the matter I can talk intelligently and convincingly on it. I say that if they have done say that if children are kept away from jails and city prisons, even if they have done something, and placed in industrial schools, the wild desire to commit crime will be dispelled with a few months' pleasant duties in the schools. I would think the legislative boards would not hesitate to pass such an ordinance as it will save many children—that is if the officer does his duty—and the expense will be light."

Rev. Orne, by the way, is one of the most extraordinary individuals who has struck Paducah in many days. He started out from Dover, N. H., with seven cents in money and today at noon had 80 cents. "We never ask for anything, but preach the gospel and take what is offered without solicitation," he declared.

Dr. Orne started out inspecting jails for the purpose of compiling a complete and authentic book of statistics and one remarkable incident is that on his start he inspected the Dover, N. H., jail, which is a revolving jail, and when the last jail on his route was inspected, the Paducah jail, he found it to be also revolving.

"These two jails are the only two of their kind in existence," he declared, "for I have seen them all and know what I am talking about."

He said further: "I do not intend to stop my labors in this country but will go on and make a tour of the world. First I will go down the Mississippi to a strip of land inhabited by a low class of Creoles. My wife and I have neglected this one strip and feel that we should go there before we leave the United States."

Begins Long Journey Alone.

There is an aged woman at the wharf today who is undertaking more than the average person would like to try. The woman's name is Mrs. Isabel Mounsey and she is 75 years old. She is going from Warren county, Tenn., to Harkman, Wis., a place not far from Madison. She lives in a two horse wagon, of narrow gauge, covered with a patched covering of oil cloth, clothes, and canvas, and intends traveling as much of the way as possible in this vehicle.

Inside of the wagon are several chickens, a dog, a clock, and few shucks on which the woman sleeps. The woman has lived alone for six years in Tennessee, but was overcome with a desire to return to her native town. She was formerly postmistress at Harkman, Wis., has saved the money she made there, and is now returning on it. She seems to be well educated and is able to take care of herself, from the story she told today. She was asked how she would defend her belongings if anyone attempted to rob her, but she refused to state how she would do it. She denied having a gun of any description, but gave one to understand that it would not go well for one to put his head in the wagon.

She came from Nashville on the Butterfield and will go from here to St. Louis on the St. Louis. From there she will get a boat to Dubuque, Ia. The rest of the long journey will be made by driving the horses to the wagon. She was asked what she lived on, and responded that fruits and bread were enough for her. A fire was noticed near the wagon and in response to the question, she stated that she warmed up some tea and cooked a small piece of meat that she had saved, and the wife's morning was the first time she had eaten a warm meal in over a week.

She is sometimes lonesome, she admits, but explains that her chickens keep her sufficient company. She gave the story to the questioner on the condition that he would see that she got a few papers to read during idle moments.

Many of our crosses come from our crooked ways.

The steamer had a great hole stove in her starboard side amidships, her cabin from that point forward was ripped and torn into kindling wood, her pilot house wrecked and foremast and smokestack carried away. The Juniata returned to her dock here today and landed her passengers. The Palmer was not seriously damaged.

Theatrical Notes

With plenty of swinging musical numbers, a gaily costumed chorus of comely girls, with James J. Murray, Budlong Meley and Maud Mullery as principal funmakers it is not surprising that "The Rajah of Bhong" should score a decided success with the amusement loving public. The book and lyrics are written in Will L. Roberts' best vein and Hal Campbell is responsible for the music, much of which is on the popular order. Signor Ernest Salvatore has staged the piece with an eye to the picturesque, and the costumes are a pleasing feature of the production. "The Rajah of Bhong" will be seen at The Kentucky on Monday night.

Another well pleased crowd enjoyed "The World in Motion" at the Kentucky theater last night by the Fiske Stock company. A number of new moving views were presented in addition to those of local character, and the combination made a very attractive entertainment. The vaudeville part of the bill is fine, the specialists all being first class and of such character as to win constant applause. The company remains the remainder of the week and will give a matinee performance Saturday afternoon. All who would be highly entertained should attend the company's remaining performances without fail.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN

WILLING TO STOP

The Work on Kentucky and Jefferson Street This Fall.

But Not Until the Contractors Themselves Ask for Extension of Time.

THE BUSINESS OF MEETING

The board of aldermen last night at its regular meeting indicated that it was willing to stop work on Kentucky avenue and Jefferson streets after the brick is laid to Fourth and Fifth, provided the contractors ask for it.

When the board met last night a voluminous petition from property owners along the thoroughfares against attempting the work during cold weather was read, but the board refused to in anyway interfere with the order to begin work, unless the contractors ask for it. Alderman Durrett was the only member absent.

The mayor's sale of city property on Clay street to Col. John Sinnott for $1100 was ratified.

The board of works was ordered not to let a contract for grading and graveling Yeiser and Hays avenues next Wednesday. A request has been made by property owners to have the street 50 feet instead of a 33 foot street and the boards want the matter held up until the question can be settled.

The offer of Mrs. Margaret Amz of property to open 21st street was referred to the street committee.

The city solicitor was instructed to look into the matter of allowing the First Baptist church and others to pay for street reconstruction on the ten year plan.

The proposition of James Clark to taken charge of a garbage dump was referred to the collector and sanitary committee. He wants $10 a month in warm weather and $25 in cold weather.

The aldermen, when the report of the board of works was read regarding the extension of sanitary sewerage, ordered the board of works to investigate the feasibility of having a sanitary engineer come here and draw the plans for the new sewerage district.

The matter of passing an ordinance providing for uniform streets and sidewalks, and doing away with the constant disagreements over the character of street material, was at the suggestion of Mayor Yeiser referred to the board of works.

A number of protests, petitions for relief from overassessment, and such things referred by the council Monday, were similarly referred by the aldermen.

The matter of employing former Solicitor Puryear to prosecute a suit against the $1,000 bond of the Anheuser-Busch Brewing company for violation of the Sunday law, was referred to the finance committee.

Bills, salaries and other accounts were allowed.

Ordinances were acted on as follows:

For concrete five foot sidewalks on Jefferson between 14th and 17th, first passage.

Ordinance for same kind from 18th to 25th on Jefferson street, second passage.

First passage to ordinance to gravel Sowell street from Ashbrook avenue to Hayes avenue and Hayes avenue from Sowell street to Bridge street.

The ordinance committee was instructed to have in a new ordinance regarding the office of sewerage inspector by the first of the year.

The matter of opening a street to the box factory was referred to the street committee.

The Water company was ordered to extend mains from 12th and Salem, to Rowlandtown.

The board of works was ordered to proceed with the concrete culvert on Caldwell street.

Dye & Stewart were granted a license for a saloon near Third and Elizabeth.

Dennis License was given a transfer of saloon license from 928 Husbards street, to 10th and Husbards.

The petition of butchers regarding meat peddlars was tabled.

Twenty-five dollars overpaid city license was refunded Bradley Brothers.

A request to extend the sanitary sewerage 50 ft. on Trimble from 5th and Trimble was referred to the board of works.

Solicitor Campbell was instructed to draw up a deed from the city to the board of education, of the old Mechanicsburg school property.

The board of works was instructed to do something to protect the public from the freak street and sidewalk on Second street between Broadway and Kentucky.

The I. C. was ordered to afford a better drainage at Second and Monroe, a switch interfering with the flow of water.

The I. C. was given permission to unload school coal on Second St.

Alderman Bell asked if property owners on South Side could not build their own sidewalks. He said some wanted to build them themselves and others wanted to let their own contractors. The matter was referred to the city engineer and city solicitor.

The city engineer was instructed to move the fountain at Third and Elizabeth, several hundred feet away where Elizabeth runs down from Third.

The board then adjourned.

The sharpest arrow in true love's quiver is the one tipped with jealousy.

"THE ATTERBURY SYSTEM"

Highest Achievement of the Tailors' Art in Ready-Service Clothing.

Shown in Fall Suits and Overcoats for the First Time in Paducah

MESSRS. HAYS, LEVI & CO., of New York, makers of the "Atterbury System" of Men's Clothing, stand today pre-eminent in the clothing world, acknowledged as the custom tailors who revolutionized the making of high grade clothing.

In all the large cities, in the best clothes shops, their garments are shown and worn by men of discriminating taste. In Paducah they have appointed us sole distributors because we are known as the largest sellers of high grade clothing.

In connection with the Atterbury System Clothing, we want to state to our friends and customers that it is all we claim for it, and more. In the construction only the most skilled tailors are employed who can impart that individuality, that character and drape wherein one artist excels another.

You cannot detect the difference between the "Atterbury System" Clothing and that produced by the best merchant tailors, because it not only possesses all the points that characterize fashionable garments, but taste has been displayed in the selection of the fabrics. They reflect "quiet elegance," and in the cutting, lines have been followed that insure a perfect fit.

Encouraged by the securement of this elegant clothing, and always on the alert for new and better devices for the preserving and handling of fine clothes, we personally inspected the products of the greatest shop-fitters of America at length and decided upon the

and have had them installed in our complete store. All high grade clothing is displayed in these cabinets. Each suit is shown in its entirety, pressed and ready to put on.

Daily Thought.

"Never go out of your way to meet disaster."

IT WAS A BOOMERANG.

The democrats started their battery of vituperation too soon. Immediately upon the announcement that the president of one of the life insurance companies had given $48,000 to the republican campaign fund last year, the democratic press began belching forth a withering fire into the republican camp, as the war correspondent would say. Judge Parker was interviewed. He told of how the election was "thought" and reviewed the manifold virtues of immaculate democracy, and recounted the multitudinous evils of republicanism. National Secretary Woodson added his own testimonial, and "everything was lovely and the goose honked high." It was the first time the democrats had found anything to jubilate over since the election, and they made the best of it—while it lasted. Then came the reaction. The same man who said he gave $48,000 to the republicans, said he was harassed to death by the democrats for a contribution.

His exact words were: "My life was made weary by the democratic candidates chasing me for money in that campaign. Some of the very men who today are being interviewed in the papers and denouncing men who contributed to campaigns, were crossing my path every step I took looking for money. One—the candidate himself, Parker, if he would show up his books when he was chairman of the democratic state committee, it would give you a fit. He never rejected a dollar in his world. He would take every dollar that was paid to him."

Judge Parker, when shown the statement, issued what purported to be a denial, but it was not. He merely says that HE never directly or indirectly solicited funds from that or any other corporation. This is doubtless true. A candidate in his position could not, and would not be expected to. But others did, whether Judge Parker knew it or not. The life insurance president says they did, and this statement is entitled to just as much credence as the one he made about contributing to the republican campaign fund, which the democrats seized upon with so much avidity. Judge Parker has denied nothing that the corporation official said. In his "denial" he does not even refer to the accusation that while state chairman of the democratic party he, Judge Parker, took everything offered without compunction. His evasive explanation, denial, or whatever it may be termed, is too paltry to deceive anyone.

The whole incident is ludicrous. The democratic hoax before the explosion came, was simply a case of sour grapes. The exposure shows that they were just as hot after the "dough" as the republicans. The "holier" they raised shows their brazen hypocrisy. The main thing the matter is that they couldn't get the money. Judge Parker should now make a more explicit statement. Some of the political grafters with whom he was surrounded are known to have held up corporations for all they could get in other campaigns, and if reports are correct, they were not always thoughtful enough to use the money for the purposes for which it was contributed.

The democratic leaders seem determined that the democratic party shall not forfeit the right to its symbol—a jackass.

Portions of the public schools doubtless are not as clean as they should be, but a school building cannot be expected to remain as clean as a parlor. The report of the board of health may be misleading. If the schools were in such an awfully unsanitary condition, the teachers and superintendent would have reported it. All the buildings have been given an overhauling, and school has been in session but two weeks, so there cannot be such an awful amount of filth accumulated this soon after school convened. The board of health is to be commended, however, for the interest it has taken, and for its prompt steps to secure better sanitary conditions in the schools. When it has finished this matter, it might take up the filthy condition of the city in general, parts of which never were cleaned so far as anyone has knowledge. Every school building is cleaned every day. Parts of the city, even in the business section, are never cleaned.

If Alderman Kraus wants to see "better work" than that of the bitulithic contractors on Broadway, St. Louis and many other cities. Men in Paducah, including some of the best and most intelligent citizens, have seen it, and so may Alderman Kraus, is he wanted to find it very badly. Simply because he has never seen it is no sign it does not exist. The bad job on Broadway, which after all is not so bad as might appear, is due to the long delay of the legislative boards, forcing or permitting the contractors to put the material down in cold weather.

TWENTY-SIX WERE CONVICTED HERE

At the Term of Circuit Court Just Closed.

They Were Sentenced Today—H. H. Loving Admitted to Bail by Agreement Commonwealth.

AND OTHER COURT NOTES

Tomorrow will end the September term of the McCracken criminal circuit court, when the grand jury is finally discharged. Judge Reed held court this morning but did nothing more than sentence the prisoners and hear a few motions in civil actions.

There were twenty-six convictions this term of court, but one defendant was discharged, the judgment being suspended during good behavior was Levi Ruff, a small negro boy who was given a term for house-breaking. On account of his tender age he was brought into court sentenced to the reform school and then on motion of the commonwealth's attorney the judgment suspended and the defendant discharged.

Thomas Baker, colored, alleged to have been an accessory to Charles Johnson in the cutting of Greathouse Cheatham, was granted a new trial and recognized.

There will be twenty-five prisoners taken away, however. They include Mrs. Mary Brockwell, who was given a life term last court for murdering her three children, having been left here pending a motion for a new trial. She was supposed to be insane and her attorneys intended sustaining this plea, but it was later decided to accept the sentence.

This morning twenty-four prisoners were sentenced. They are all colored and as follows:

Porter Hart, murder, 21 years; Ed. Marable, murder, 21 years; Ed. Seale, incest, 8 years; Rufe Minor, malicious assault, 5 years; Alex Fitzpatrick, grand larceny, 2 years; Rufe Neece, murder, 3 years; Charles Johnson, malicious cutting, 1 year; Will Matthews, converting property to his own use, 1 year; Leander Donald, female, grand larceny, 2 years; Shelby Hughes, obtaining money by false pretenses, 1 year; John Jenkins, obtaining money by false pretenses, 1 year; John Jenkins, malicious striking, 1 year; Della Maribel female, forgery, 2 years; James Bonds, obtaining money by false pretenses, 1 year; Joe Lewis, obtaining money by false pretenses, 1 year; J. E. Mack, malicious assault, 2 years; Wm. Arnold, housebreaking, 1 year; Ed. Hampton, grand larceny, 2 years; Albert Wallace, malicious striking, 1 year; Wm. Fox, malicious shooting, 18 months; Augustus Green, grand larceny, 1 year; Riley Crowley, false sweating, 1 year; Ernest Hill, Luntz Hill, malicious assault, 2 years.

In the case of the Hills and Alex Fitzpatrick, appeals were granted.

Adjudged of Unsound Mind.
Jesse Hughes, a resident of the lower portion of the county, about 18 or 19 years of age, was this afternoon tried in circuit court by special jury and adjudged of unsound mind, and will be taken to the asylum to-night or tomorrow by his uncle, Mr. Henry Cunningham. The boy is crazy over religion and when sent out to work would go about fifteen feet, drop down on his hands and knees and begin praying, repeating it every fifteen or twenty feet. He informed the court that he was not crazy but was bothered by the Lord, who forbade him to work.

Criminal Circuit Court.
Ernest and Luntz Hill, colored, were found guilty of maliciously assaulting C. E. Evans, white, on the Cairo road several months ago, and given two years each in the penitentiary. The defendants made a motion for a new trial.

Civil Docket.
A judgment for divorce was filed in the case of Johanna McCartney against Wm. C. P. McCartney, the latter an attorney.

Wants $1,000 Damage.
F. M. McGlathery this afternoon filed suit in circuit court against C. R. Hall for $1,000 damages for the alleged misrepresentation of assets and liabilities in the sale of Hall's interest in business to the plaintiff. Hall and J. R. Province were in business selling implements and groceries under the firm name of C. R. Hall & Co., and Hall sold out to McGlathery. The petition alleges that Hall gave McGlathery a list of the assets and liabilities and was paid $1,500 for his interest in the business. McGlathery alleges that he finds the list erroneous and that he was forced to pay out debts amounting to $1,000 in excess of the list furnished him by Hall, and prays damages to that amount.

Sues for Personal Injuries.
Elmer Collins this afternoon filed a suit against E. Rehkopf Saddle Co. and E. Rehkopf for $4,000 damages for personal injuries.

He was working at the defendant's plant when caught in a machine and badly injured about the shoulders and arms. He alleges the damages amount to $4,000 and prays for that amount. The accident happened October, 1904.

Loving Granted Bail.
Yesterday afternoon an agreement was reached between attorneys for the prosecution and defense by which it was announced to Circuit Judge W. M. Reed that a $10,000 bail for H. H. Loving was satisfactory to the commonwealth, and Judge Reed then allowed the defendant to execute bond in the sum of $10,000. Dr. J. T. Reddick and Messrs. W. C. O'Brien and Eli Guthrie becoming his sureties. This made a hearing of a motion for bail, set for this morning, unnecessary.

Sues for Personal Injuries.
Elmer Collins this afternoon filed a suit against E. Rehkopf Saddle Co. and E. Rehkopf for $4,000 damages for personal injuries.

He was working at the defendant's plant when caught in a machine and badly injured about the shoulders and arms. He alleges the damages amount to $4,000 and prays for that amount. The accident happened October, 1904.

Loving Granted Bail.
Yesterday afternoon an agreement was reached between attorneys for the prosecution and defense by which it was announced to Circuit Judge W. M. Reed that a $10,000 bail for H. H. Loving was satisfactory to the commonwealth, and Judge Reed then allowed the defendant to execute bond in the sum of $10,000. Dr. J. T. Reddick and Messrs. W. C. O'Brien and Eli Guthrie becoming his sureties. This made a hearing of a motion for bail, set for this morning, unnecessary.

Suit On Note.
R. H. Hicks this morning filed suit in circuit court against A. N. and M. J. Robinson to recover $150 alleged to be due on a note, and to attach property of the defendants to satisfy the claim.

FOE TO HEALTH FOUND IN CITY

RHEUMATISM IN MANY FORMS SAID TO BE PREVALENT IN THIS CITY.

RELIEF IN STUBBORN CASE.

Man Tells Remarkable Story About His Experience With Payne Remedies.

"For the last two or three years I have fought no city where rheumatism has a firmer hold upon the people than right here in Paducah," said Payne last evening in answer to a question addressed to him as to what most of the people who call to see him are troubled with.

"There is a great deal of stomach trouble here, and many people are afflicted with catarrh in one form or another, but there are more sufferers from Rheumatism than all the rest combined. But one other city I have visited approaches Paducah in the prevalence of this disease and that city is Cincinnati. But even Cincinnati is far behind Paducah in the number of people who are suffering with rheumatism in different forms.

Rheumatism and the Weather.
"It may be possible that a lot of this rheumatism is only superficial and is due to changeable and unsettled weather. All sufferers with rheumatism as a rule very much affected by damp, rainy weather. Real rheumatism, however, has nothing whatever to do with atmospheric conditions. It is caused by uric acid in the blood and when once contracted it is not easily eradicated, as any one afflicted with it will readily testify. Old Mr. Rheumatism, when he takes hold, hates to let go, and suffers from this complaint, if they have had it for any length of time are apt to be pretty skeptical as to anything on earth being able to benefit them. I am, therefore, especially pleased when people of this kind come to thank me for what my remedies have done for them, for they are genuinely grateful. I am receiving more of these callers every day and feel that my visit so far in Paducah has not been in vain."

Case Comes to Light.

A verification of Mr. Payne's statement was obtained by a call at Smith & Nagel's Drug Store yesterday morning for a case of this character came to light when Mr. Shoemaker, living on Broadway, called. Mr. Shoemaker is a man past middle age and seemed to be especially delighted over what the Payne Remedies had done for him. He said: "I have been troubled for some time past with rheumatism in the legs, accompanied by sharp pains and swelling and cramping to such an extent that it was very hard for me to get around at all. I have used one bottle of the New Discovery medicine and one bottle of the Quick Relief and the pains and those terrible cramps of the muscles have entirely left me. I am now able to get around and walk long distances without the least trouble. This morning was the first time I have walked upstairs for three months and I could not have done this last week to save my life. I did it this morning without the least difficulty."

As Payne has stated, rheumatism is hard to get rid of, and when it is considered that Mr. Shoemaker is past middle age and that the results he speaks of were accomplished in a week's time, this is very remarkable and accounts for the tremendous sale of the Payne Remedies now going on in this city and others where they have been introduced.

All are invited to meet Payne at the Smith & Nagel Drug Store, 4th and Broadway, between 9 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Library Board Met.
The Carnegie library board met last night and selected a list of 800 or more new books, which will be forwarded to publishers for prices. The cost will be something like $1,500. The board elected Clarence Archer, colored, janitor at the library building. It is likely that the library will be open on Sunday after the first of October.

Incredible Brutality.

It would have been incredible brutality if Chas. F. Lemberger of Syracuse, N. Y., had not done the best he could for his suffering son. "My boy," he says, "cut a fearful gash over his eye so I applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which quickly healed it and saved his eye." Good for burns and ulcers too. Only 25c at W. B. McPherson's drug store.

GOOD WORK

Is Being Done by the Commercial Club—New Buggy to Be Rallied.

The Editor of the Sun, City.
Dear Sir: A subcommittee, consisting of Mr. Berry, of Wheeler, Hughes and Berry, and Mr. J. C. Flournoy, accompanied by the secretary of the Commercial club, spent forty minutes in soliciting subscriptions to the $100 bonds to make up the $10,000 allotment for Paducah in order to secure the location here of the Metal Vehicle Wheel company, called upon a few of the lawyers and doctors this a. m. and met with a most excellent reception, in almost every case the gentleman called upon subscribed for one or more bonds. Eleven hundred dollars was made up in about forty minutes, no opposition was met with, and these professional gentlemen showed the greatest interest in the wheel enterprise, and efforts being made by the Commercial club to bring what promises to be a most excellent manufacturing concern to Paducah.

We now have $5,300 subscribed, and lack $4,700. This should be made up yet this week. Will the citizens who desire to assist in building up Paducah, come to our headquarters, and lend a hand in this work?

Yours very truly,
COMMERCIAL & MFG. ASS'N.,
D. W. COONS, Sec.

People and Pleasant Events

Married in Owensboro.
Mr. Carl Andrew Wells, of Paducah, and Miss Adele Payne, of Owensboro, were married yesterday and arrived in Paducah last evening. They were tendered a reception and banquet at Red Men's hall and a large crowd was present. Yesterday's Owensboro Inquirer says of the wedding:

"The marriage of Mr. Carl Andrew Wells and Miss Adele Payne took place this morning at St. Paul's Catholic church at 7:30 o'clock in the presence of a large gathering of friends of the bride and groom. Rev. E. S. Fitzgerald read the mass and performed the nuptial ceremony. The day happened to be a feast of St. Anthony, a martyr, and because of this the regular nuptial mass could not be celebrated and the decorations of the altar had to be in red. The effect, however, was very pretty and quite novel. In the chancel were ferns and other plants well arranged. The sanctuary and steps leading to the altar where the couple knelt were carpeted in white. As the wedding party entered Miss Johnnie May Turner played the Lohengrin wedding march and Mendelssohn's march was played as they left the church. "Hearts and Flowers," by Tobani, was played on the organ and violin by Miss Turner and Miss Mary Wright, and Father Connor sang the Gounod-Bach Ave Maria and another Ae Maria was sung by Miss Turner. The only attendants were Mr. Earl Wells, a brother of the groom, and Mr. Charles Payne. After the couple left the main auditorium they were greeted by their many friends and showered with rice as well as with greetings and congratulations the most cordial. They drove to the Illinois Central depot and took the 9 o'clock train for Paducah, where they will make their home. Mrs. Wells was one of Owensboro's worthiest young women and she has a host of friends here and will surely make friends of all who meet her in her new home. Mr. Wells was in business here for a time and then went to Paducah, where he is reported to be doing well."

A NEW SCHOOL IS NEEDED IN WEST END

Lupt. Lieb Thinks Lang's Park Would be a Good Place.

There Will Also Have to Be School in Rowlandtown Very Soon.

SOME OTHER SCHOOL MATTERS.

Supt. C. M. Leib, of the Paducah public schools, thinks that within a year or two there will be such an increase in school children that another school will have to be built in the west end and the High school building used exclusively as a high school.

"I have studied the school question in Paducah hard and foresee the necessity of another school in the west end," he explained. "I have been looking up all public property which may be used for school purposes and have my eye on Lang park. This is one of the prettiest places about here for a park, taking into consideration the formation of the streets and the easy access the park is from all sides, but the city does not seem inclined to use it. In a few years the city will have to build a school in this portion of the city—this is when the High school gets crowded and this will be a matter of only a short time—and I could not imagine a better place. Take the attendance in the primary and grammar grades in the two districts in which the Washington and Jefferson buildings are located and you will see an overflow of 75 pupils. Forty pupils to the room is as many pupils as any one teacher ought to be expected to handle, and in these two schools some teachers have from 45 to 50 and 55. This condition exists in grades from the First to Sixth inclusive.

"The board has been investigating this condition and is at a loss to know what to do. The board has no money with which to build a school in Rowlandtown, where a majority of this overflow comes from, and we will have to do the best we can."

The schools, excepting the overflow in this district, are running along nicely. Prof. Sugg is still ill and also is Miss Morgan, but the latter will be back from the springs and in charge of her department by Monday.

This afternoon the teachers will meet and outline a program for the regular literary meetings to be held monthly. After the committee is appointed the teachers will be directed relative to grade meetings which will follow after the general teachers' meeting.

Supt. Leib stated this morning that he appreciated the efforts of the board of health to better the sanitary conditions at the school houses, and would be pleased to co-operate with the board in every way, not only in the school matter but in sanitation in general, as far as his duties would permit. There was one school connected with the sewers where the closets failed to flush. This was because the valve caps had been removed at the close of school last year and had not been replaced. A plumber replaced them and the flushing apparatus is now in excellent working order.

The principal trouble in this respect lies in the failure of the janitors to report promptly such matters, and Superintendent Leib has issued instructions to every principal to have the janitors report promptly every irregularity. The school authorities, as far as it is possible, will remedy every defect in the sanitary line.

HARRY ALLEN CUT.

Had Thrashed a Man For Making an Insulting Remark About a Young Lady.

Harry Allen, a candidate for the democratic nomination for coroner of McCracken county, was cut late yesterday afternoon. It is alleged by Edward Cloonan, an engineer on the Illinois Central.

According to statements given out, Allen had been electioneering, and near Eleventh and Broadway met Cloonan and other railroad men. They were walking towards town between Eighth and Ninth when Cloonan is alleged to have made an insulting remark about a young lady. Allen warned him to be careful what he said, as the young lady was a relative. Cloonan is alleged to have iterated what he said and Allen knocked him down several times.

The engineer is alleged to have rushed at Allen about 150 feet further on, and Allen stumbled off the sidewalk just in time to miss the full force of a murderous cut. The knife caught him on the right side of the throat and missed the jugular vein by a narrow margin, inflicting a gash four inches long.

He bled profusely, and was taken to Dr. Horace Rivers' office, where his injury was dressed. The wound is not dangerous. Cloonan escaped.

The Watch Contest.

Miss May V. Patterson is still in the lead for the carnival watch, the vote as counted last showing:

Will Try to Use Girls.

Chicago, Sept. 22.—The experiment in the shops of the Chicago Typothetae since the printers' strike began promises a new field of industry for girl stenographers. From the typewriter keyboard to that of a typesetting machine, the employers say, is only a short remove. So successful have the young women proved as "operators" in the large printing shops, that the proprietors are seeking for more of them. The Typothetae has decided to advertise for a hundred girls for machine work, to take the places of striking printers. At present 25 girls are acting as strike breakers.

Only those who have the world can live above it.

AT METROPOLIS

A BABY SHOW WILL BE GIVEN SEPTEMBER 23.

Mussel Shell Diggers Ship a Carload—Other Illinois Items.

Metropolis, Ill., Sept. 22.—There is very little going on here at present but Metropolis is growing rapidly, and bids fair to continue the growth more rapidly this fall than ever before. The people are greatly encouraged over the progress shown on every hand, and expect to land a number of good factories in the near future.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold a baby show at Fritt's Hall Saturday evening, September 23. "Entries" must not be over eighteen months old, and both boys and girls are eligible. Two prizes will be awarded, one to the handsomest boy baby, the other to the prettiest girl baby. As there are as many babies in Metropolis to the square foot as in any other town on earth, and pretty ones, at that, the coming event will surely be an interesting one. An admission of 25 cents will be charged to all not having an "exhibit."

The list of premiums to be awarded by the Farmers' Institute in the boys' colt and corn contest, has been completed and contains much to make the enterprising farmer boy work hard to be a winner. The institute convenes October 21 and will be in session three days.

The M. H. S. football team have a game on with Columbia to be played Saturday.

A fourteen-year-old daughter of Mrs. William Rhineking is seriously ill of bilious remittent fever.

Randolph Bros., the mussel diggers, and buyers, shipped another carload of shells Wednesday. The mussel industry here is getting to be quite a profitable business.

Dr. R. H. Jacobs holds the record so far this season as a squirrel hunter. Wednesday afternoon he killed seven with six shots and was out only two hours.

Mrs. J. W. Belew, only a short time a resident of this city, is seriously ill.

Anse Teckenbrock, who rallied from what was thought to be a fatal attack of meningitis some days ago, is again very low. He had so far recovered as to be able to go about, but suffered a relapse. He is one of the best known and respected citizens of Round Knob.

Owing to complications arising out of the quarantine, Cairo is in doubt regarding the proposed ball game for Sunday. A telephone message Wednesday from that city gave no assurance that the Cairo team would come, and steps are now being taken by Manager Compton, of the Blues to get a game with the L. A. L.'s to be played at Paducah, in any event.

Only those who have the world can live above it.

the Blues are going to take on something worthy the effort before long.

The funeral of Miss Alice Willis occurred Wednesday, and was one of the largest processions of sorrowing friends that has been witnessed here in many days. Eight young men, schoolmates and life-long friends, acted as pallbearers. They were: Messrs. Loren Smith, Arthur and Walter Moreland, Morris Ferrell, Duff Choate, Rollie Simmons, Lester Craig and Robert Lynn. To the grief-stricken and heart-broken parents nothing could have been said or done more consoling than to have witnessed the sympathy depicted on every one's face during the last sad rites.

Fire Wednesday afternoon destroyed an immense barn and its contents belonging to Mr. Fowler E. Armstrong, several miles from here. Mr. Armstrong was in town at the time and knew nothing of his loss until his return home about 3 o'clock. Besides the barn three other buildings burned entailing a loss of between $1,500 and $2,000, with only a small amount of insurance. The contents consisted of a binder, mower, buggies, various other implements, many tons of hay, considerable wheat and two dogs. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Raffles, The Amateur Cracksman

By E. W. HORNUNG

A COSTUME PIECE

No. 2 of the Series

His eye twinkled, but it glittered too.

"We shall have our work cut out," was all I said.

"And do you suppose I should be keen on it?" he asked.

"My dear fellow, I would rob St. Paul's cathedral if I could, but I could not more so than I could the shopwalker."

"Wasn't looking at me, but I could bag the apples out of an old woman's basket."

"Even that little business last month was a sordid affair, but it was necessary, and I think its strategy redeemed it to some extent."

"Now, there's some credit and more sport in going where they boast their on their guard against you. The Bank of England, for example, is the ideal crib, but that would need half a dozen of us with years to give to the job, and meanwhile Reuben Rosenthal is high enough game for you and me."

"We know he's a rake. We know how Billy Purvis can fight. It'll be no soft thing."

"I grant you. But what of that, my good fellow—what of that? A man's reach must exceed his grasp, dear boy, or what the dickens is a heaven for?"

"I would rather we didn't exceed ours just yet," I answered, laughing, for his spirit was irresistible and the plan was growing upon me despite my qualms.

"Trust me for that," was his reply.

"I'll see you through. After all, I expect to find that the difficulties are nearly all on the surface. These fellows both drink like the devil, and that should simplify matters considerably. But we shall see, and we must take our time. There will probably turn out to be a dozen different ways in which the thing might be done and we shall have to choose between them."

"It will mean watching the house for at least a week in any case. It may mean lots of other things that will take much longer, but give me a week and I will tell you more—than that to say, if you're really up."

"Of course I am," I replied indignantly. "But why should I give you a week? Why shouldn't we watch the house together?"

"Because two eyes are as good as four and take up less room. Never hunt in couples unless you're obliged. But don't you look offended, Bunny; there'll be plenty for you to do when the time comes; that I promise you. You shall have your share of the fun, never fear, and a purple diamond all to yourself—if we're lucky."

On the whole, however, this conversation left me less than lukewarm, and I still remember the depression which came upon me when Raffles was gone. I saw the folly of the enterprise for which I had committed myself—the sheer, gratuitous, unnecessary folly of it. And the paradoxes in which Raffles revelled and the frivolous casuistry which was nevertheless half sincere and which his mere personality rendered wholly plausible at the moment of utterance appeared very little to me when recalled in cold blood. I admired the spirit of pure mischief in which he seemed prepared to risk his liberty and his life, but I did not find it an infectious spirit on calm reflection. Yet the thought of withdrawal was not to be entertained for a moment. On the contrary, I was impatient of the delay ordained by Raffles, and perhaps no small part of my secret disaffection came of his galling determination to do without me until the last moment.

It made it no better that this was characteristic of the man and of his attitude toward me. For a month we had been, I suppose, the thickest thieves in all London, and yet our intimacy was curiously incomplete. With all his charming frankness there was in Raffles a vein of capricious reserve which was perceptible enough to be very irritating. He had the instinctive secretiveness of the inveterate criminal. He would make mysteries of matters of common concern. For example, I never knew how or where he disposed of the Bond Street jewels, on the proceeds of which we were both still leading the outward lives of hundreds of other young fellows about town. He was consistently mysterious about that and other details, of which it seemed to me that I had already earned the right to know everything. I could not but remember how he had led me into my first felony by means of a trick while yet uncertain whether he could trust me or not. That I could no longer afford to resent, but I did resent his want of confidence in me now. I said nothing about it, but it rankled every day and never more than in the week that succeeded the Rosenthal dinner. When I met Raffles at the club he would tell me nothing. When I went to his rooms he was out, or pretended to be.

One day he told me he was getting on well, but slowly. It was a more ficklish game than he had thought, but when I began to ask questions he would say no more. Then and there, in my annoyance, I took my own decision. Since he would tell me nothing of the result of his visits, I determined to keep one on my own account, and that very evening found my way to the millionaire's front gates.

The house he was occupying is, I believe, quite the largest in the St. John's wood district. It stands in the angle formed by two broad thoroughfares, neither of which, as it happens, is a busy route, and I doubt if many quiet spots exist within the four mile radius. Quiet also was the great square house, in its garden of grass plots and shrubs; the lights were low, the millionaire and his friends obviously spending their evening elsewhere. The garden walls were only a few feet high. In one there was a side door opening into a glass passage; in the other, two five-barred, grained and varnished gates, one at either end of the little semicircular drive, and both wide open. So still was the place that I had a great mind to walk boldly in and learn something of the premises; in fact, I was on the point of doing so when I heard a quick, shuffling step on the pavement behind me. I turned round and faced the dark scowl and the dirty clinched fists of a dilapidated tramp.

"You fool," said he. "You utter idiot!"

"Raffles!"

Your Life Current.

The power that gives you life and motion is the nerve force, or nerve fluid, located in the nerve cells of the brain, and sent out through the nerves to the various organs.

If you are tired, nervous, irritable, cannot sleep; have headache, feel stuffy, dull and melancholy, or have neuralgia, rheumatism, backache, periodical pains, indigestion, dyspepsia, stomach trouble, or the kidneys and liver are inactive, your life-current is weak.

Power-producing fuel is needed; something to increase nerve energy—strengthen the nerves.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve is the fuel you need. It feeds the nerves, produces nerve force, and restores vitality.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nerve and Anti-Pain Pills I was confined to my bed. I had severe nervous spells, the result of two years illness with malaria. I gradually grew so weak that I was unable to sit up. The spells would come with cold chills, and I would become weak and almost helpless. My circulation was poor. I had doctored right along but grew weaker and weaker. The Nerve Restorative was better. I have taken in all seven bottles of the Nerve Restorative and I am entirely well."

MUCH WORK

In the Woodworking Department of the Illinois Central.

Several months ago the local I. C. shops received orders to make ten new cabooses of the larger type for service on the Paducah and Louisville districts of the road, but only half the order has been filled, and from indications will not be filled for some time.

The wood working department has so much repair work on hand that the manufacture of the cabooses had to be dropped until the work can be caught up with. The jacking track has been well filled with damaged cars, but this is a small item compared with the work in the other wood working shops. There is work in this department for the whole force the entire winter, it is said.

Abscess.
Abscesses, with few exceptions, are indicative of constipation or debility.

W. H. Harrison, Cleveland, Miss., writes, Aug. 15, 1902: "I want to say a word of praise for Ballard's Snow Liniment. I stepped on a nail, which caused the cords in my leg to contract and an abscess to rise in my knee, and the doctor told me that I would have a stiff leg, so one day I went to J. F. Lord's drug store (who is now in Denver, Col.) He recommended a bottle of Snow Liniment; I got a 50c size, and it cured my leg. It is the best liniment in the world."

KNIGHTS OF HONOR

TO ISSUE A NEW INSURANCE POLICY FOR $250.

Supreme Lodge Elected Officers at Indianapolis For the Ensuing Year.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 22.—Officers of the supreme lodge of the Knights and Ladies of Honor were elected and a new insurance policy was "ordained" issued at a session of the grand lodge. The new policy will be for $250. Hitherto the order has issued three policies—one for $2,000, and for $1,000 and the third for $500. It was believed that a policy for $250 would attract a large number of desirable policyholders and would give present policyholders greater latitude in adding to their insurance.

With few exceptions the officers of the supreme lodge of Knights and Ladies of Honor were re-elected. Those re-elected are L. B. Lockwood, of Indianapolis, supreme protector; R. G. Lamberton, of Franklin, Pa., assistant supreme protector; George D. Tait, of Indianapolis, supreme secretary; George A. Byrd, of Indianapolis, supreme treasurer; Dr. L. D. LIFE!

Our definition of life is simply this: To live so as to get the greatest happiness from it, consistent with doing our duty to others.

You are mistaken if you think that the most happiness comes from unlimited enjoyment. The life which is moderate in all things and not the life which is excessive knows the greatest happiness.

Nothing equals saving as a means of extracting pleasure from life. By making you think a little over the money you spend; by placing in your life a purpose for which you can work, saving is the most steady influence you can obtain.

A Canterbury Suit For 1905-6

The New Things in Our Children's Department

You must see our new, enlarged Children's Department on the second floor and see the new showings in children's apparel we have assembled.

Our Boys' clothing is the result of years of study and thought. It is made by the same high salaried tailors who make our men's clothing, but costs no more than the ordinary boys' clothing. We have all the latest styles in Norfolks, Russian Blouse and Buster Browns in the popular grays, browns and fancy mixtures. This clothing, while handsome to look at, does the "handsome thing"—combines wearing qualities with beauty.

The New Fall Shoes

If you will once wear a Stacy Adams shoe, truly you will have no other. They combine with great wearing qualities the virtue of never losing shape and being, always comfortable.

It is the best shoe made to sell at $5.00 and $6.00.

We Want You to Stop in and See the Famous Canterberry System of Clothing, $20 to $40 It is the Greatest Achievement in Ready-to-Wear Clothing

WE want you to see this famous line of Clothing we have just added. It is indeed the best clothing creation that has yet been turned out for the ready-to-wear trade, and where known it has made great inroads into the best custom tailors' trade. Canterbury Clothing is made by the best tailors in the country, and every little detail in its making undergoes the most searching scrutiny—the cloth is shrunk carefully, and each garment hand tailored. Suits and overcoats in this clothing from $20.00 to $40.00.

An Exceptional Value in Men's Suits, $7.50 to $10

We have a great demand for suits at from $7.50 to $10.00 and to fill it we have a line of clothing made up on specifications made by us. We pay for it more than the $7.50 to $10.00 clothing usually costs, but are satisfied to do so because of the great satisfaction it gives our customers and the big increase each year in our sales of it. The patterns are surprisingly pretty, the workmanship of superior grade and the wearing qualities all that could be desired.

Let us show you this suit at $7.50 to $10.00.

The New Things in Hats

We are agents for Dunlap, Youngs, Stetson's and the Hawes hats. The new styles in derby and soft shapes are very nobby. Gray shades will be popular, but we have any shade one fancies. These hats are from $3.50 to $5.00.
